

I am a amateur radio operator. When I first entered ham radio i had to pass a morse code test and questions. I don't mind your re doing the license structure, but i find grandfathering the two lowest levels all the way to where i had to earn is NOT FAIR.Each time i wanted to earn more privledges i had to study and pass another test. Now the arrl wants to let people who haven"t earned their upgrades to just move up for nothing?? Doesn:t sound fair to me. Thankyou, Michael Phillippe n7pla General class license holder. (and i earned it)
